

12 WAYS

DIGITAL SIGNAGE CAN HELP YOU REOPEN SAFELY

As people come back to your facility, you can keep everyone safe and informed with realtime digital signage messaging. Use your screens to reinforce policies, ease stress, minimize disruptions and build community. Get free reopening messages at visix.com/resources/free-digital-signage-messages.

-  Welcome employees, students, customers and visitors back to your facility.
-  Display visitor policies like registration, masks, and off-limits areas.
-  Show building, room and elevator capacities, and include maps.
-  Show adjusted hours for shared spaces and on-site facilities like cafés, gyms, etc.
-  Manage traffic flows with one-way hallways and stairways.
-  Prompt people to distance themselves when standing, queuing or seated.
-  Remind people to wash their hands frequently and wipe down work areas.
-  Ask people to cover their nose and mouth when coughing, and to stay home if ill.
-  Use room signs to advertise when a room is being cleaned or ready for use.
-  Add a voice user interface to let people talk to screens instead of touching them.
-  Lift the mood with inspirational, motivational and funny messages.
-  Advertise an online repository of all current policies with a QR code or short URL.
